DREYFUS AND FRANCE.

A week ago Chief Justice Russell, whose judgment is worth that of all the jurists in France combined, said of the Dreyfus case: "The evidence produced is not sufficient even for a magistrate to send the prisoner before a jury." Since then evidence has been introduced which absolutely demonstrates the innocence of the prisoner. But it does not guarantee his acquittal, and it is exactly this fact which gives the case its interest and its supreme importance. The world is waiting to see, not whether Dreyfus is free or bound, but whether France can do justice.

that goes with household service. The man who has charge of a modern complicated machine needs far more intelligence and skill, and gets far better wages than the man behind the counter, but there is a rash for store and office positions and an absolute dearth of intelligent men for mechanical positions, simply on account of the traditional social standing of clerical work.

"The laborer is worthy of his hire" and in these days he may be trusted to get it. But he is also entitled to the respect that is due to the importance of his place in the world, and until he gets this respect he, or at least his class, will profit very little by the increase in hire. Between high and lower ranks of labor there is an eternal difference. The statesman and his stenographer, the mechanical engineer and his engine-wiper are fundamentally unequal. But between the man who does work, low or high with a clean tool that weighs an ounce and the one who does the same grade of work with grimy tools that weigh pounds or tons, there is no gulf fixed, and society should not invent the fiction of one.

are only in the infancy of the development of your paramount industry. It is the desire of the Southern Pacific Company, in a specific and direct way, to attract the attention of those who hold the idle capital of Europe to your financial necessities.

There should be a very profitable business connection with the financial agency for the handling of your enterprise. Greater areas should be brought under cultivation, and the more nearly you come to establishing complete primary in raisin production in the world, the more profitable it will be, and the greater certainty will attend that result. The future of the raisin industry at Fresno depends upon its constant expansion rather than its contraction. In the world of commerce the chief source of supply receives first consideration and is the beneficiary of all concessions.

I repeat: We are asking no pecuniary assistance and we need none. What we want is the benefit of intelligent co-operation.

Very sincerely yours,
W. H. MILLS.

Between 700 and 800 spectators witnessed Fresno's downfall at Merced. About 250 of the Fresno cranks and if you wish to know why there is so much sadness at the Fiske corner just glance at the score below.

The rooters created more noise than had ever before been produced in Merced. About 250 of the Fresno cranks and if you wish to know why there is so much sadness at the Fiske corner just glance at the score below.

The excursionists were given a royal welcome by the Merced people. They were met at the depot by the Merced County Band playing. It will be a "Time to Come" when the Fresno cranks will not dampen the spirits of the Fresno rooters, who, in confidence are superior to any that ever invaded the Merced ball field.

When Umpires Ferguson and King called game at 10 o'clock every seat in the grand stand and bleachers were occupied and a large number were compelled to stand. It was one of the largest and most enthusiastic crowds of the season.

Dan Grubb, Merced's first representative at the bat, connected with one of his curves and drove a ball to center, where Gilbert captured it. W. Grubb gave an exhibition of club swinging and Harrell was assisted out by Maul.

For Fresno, Ray Tufts struck out. Maul hit safe to right but was forced a second on E. Tufts' drive. "Babe" Monroe got a base on balls and Decker flew out to Jim Grubb.

The second inning was opened by G. Grubb who flew out to Decker. Quigley hit to Decker and got first on Broad's error. Hanrahan flew to R. Tufts and J. Grubb's error forced Quigley at second.

The last half of the second inning was opened by Warren Monroe, who struck out. Swarts reached the initial on Quigley's error, and Hanrahan's error gave Gilbert a life. Gilbert stole second and Harrell got four balls, filling the bases. Ray Tufts struck out and Maul drove the ball to W. Grubb who assisted him out at first.

In the third inning Merced got two men on bases on errors but failed to score, while a fly ball and a double played ended Fresno's chances.

At the fourth inning Merced got on base on a fly ball and a double played. The Raina Eaters went out in one-two-three order.

In the fifth inning Merced broke into the run column. J. Grubb singled to left. Garibaldi flew to R. Tufts and Silman sacrificed to center. Dan Grubb hit for two bases scoring Jim Grubb. Fresno failed to connect with the first base in the last half of the inning.

The sixth inning gave the Merced rooters another opportunity to test their lungs. Harrell got a life on Decker's error and went to third on a wild throw. G. Grubb hit to R. Tufts and R. Tufts permitted Harrell to score. Grubb was forced at second by Quigley, and the latter was in turn forced by Hanrahan whose career was ended at second by Swarts. Fresno went out in order.

In the seventh inning the slaughter was terrific. Fresno's pitchers seemed to have gauged Merced's desire correctly and opened a bombardment that was heart rending to the Fresno rooters. J. Grubb singled to left, Garibaldi hit safe to center and Silman planted a safe one to right. Dan Grubb with a timely base hit scored J. Grubb and Garibaldi. W. Grubb hit to center for three bases, and assisted by some fumbling, reached home, driving Silman in and Dan Grubb before him. Harrell hit safe to center and G. Grubb hit a long fly to left, which Monroe captured. Quigley drove a hot one to center, which the latter caught in neatly and retired Harrell at second. Hanrahan forced Quigley at the middle cushion.

When Fresno came to the bat in the last half of the inning it was 7 to 0 in Merced's favor and the visiting rooters were working hard. They succeeded in a measure in rattling Merced's twirler who gave W. Monroe and Swarts bases on balls. Gilbert then secured a pretty single to center which scored Monroe. Swarts forced Gilbert at second and then, pumiled that base. R. Tufts hit to right for two bases scoring Swarts and Broad. Maul then hit the ball a mighty swing and when it was found, Tufts and Maul had crossed the rubber. At this stage of the game the rooters went wild. Fresno's pitchers put forth and the players themselves did a foot race around the venerable corner mascot of the Wheat-growers. R. Tufts singled to center and went to third on W. Grubb's error. W. Monroe hit to left for two bases, scoring Tufts, Decker and Monroe struck out.

In the eighth inning Warren Monroe entered the box for Fresno. J. Grubb hit to center and was retired at the initial. Garibaldi struck out. Silman got a base on balls and scored on D. Grubb's safe hit to left. The latter scored on W. Grubb's single to left. Harrell reached first on Decker's tumble and G. Grubb was assisted out at first by E. Tufts. In the last half of the ninth Fresno retired its rooters in order.

The ninth inning opened with Quigley at bat. He was retired at first through Decker's assist. Hanrahan hit to E. Tufts and got to third on the latter's low throw to first. He scored on Silman's sacrifice and was retired at second. The score was 10 to 4 when Fresno came in for their last chance. Maul flew to center. E. Tufts got out on a fly to W. Grubb. "Babe" Monroe hit a pop fly which Jim Grubb dropped. Decker singled and W. Monroe got a base on balls, filling the bags. Then Swarts struck out ending the agony.

SCHOOL TAX.

SCHOOL TAX.
City Board Prepares Estimates.
High School and Special
School Fund.
Estimates $8000 Lower Than Last Year—Miss Eleanor Year-gin Resigns.

the Saturday Dispatch.

The City Board of Education met in their regular session at the city hall yesterday afternoon for the purpose of preparing estimates for the coming year. This estimate is presented to the Board of Supervisors next Monday and from it the Board will make the school tax levy. The members of the board were even more careful than usual in estimating expenses so that the total amount might be kept as small as possible with regard to the welfare of the schools.

L. Hogue, secretary of the board, read a statement of the school expenses for the past year, of which the following are the important items:

School teachers' salaries, $28,555.69;
labor and incidentals, $11,882.39;
fuel, $5,338.58.

The foregoing included the high cost of the coal. The cost of the high grade coal alone for the past year was:

1910-11, $10,751.14; and improvement
1910-11, $189.57; supplies and incidentals, $2,000.51; total, $14,481.11.

The board prepares estimates for two years, the special school tax and the school tax. The high school tax will be the largest component of the total. The special school tax goes to support the grade schools and makes up the deficit in the amount of the county's contribution to the state for the primary and grammar grade schools.

The board's estimate of the high school tax last year was $14,500 and of the special school tax was $14,000, for a total of $29,500. The expenses in departments were kept within the limits, the actual differences being less than $1,000. The law, however, compels the Supervisors, in setting the tax rate, to set aside 16 per cent of the amount levied to pay for school delinquencies. As the delinquencies last year did not amount to 15 per cent of the assessment, a surplus was created, which still remains in the fund.

The special fund there is left approximately $5000, and of the high school fund about $5500. In making estimates yesterday these amounts were deducted from the total available for the coming year, and the balance was estimated by the board.

The disturbing element in raising the expenses for the lower grades for the coming year was the question whether the pupils in the annexed portions of the city, and Belmont, would be sent to the high schools during the year.

The board considered it necessary to count on the expense of two teachers for them. The addition of a teacher to the grammar school increased the salary list.

The following are the estimates prepared by the Board of Education to be before the Supervisors: For the high school fund—Teachers' salaries, $3900; janitor's salary, $960; total, $4860. For the special school fund—Teachers' salaries, $2950; janitor's salary, $350; total, $3300. For the grammar and preparatory, $1500.

estimates thus for the coming year amount to $20,000 as against $28,700 for last year. It is to be noted that the total cost of maintaining the school district has been about the same for the last three years, the increase being due to the increase in supplies and incidentals. Salaries are decreasing and the salary list has been increasing. For the year 1896-97 salary list was $32,823.50, the incidental list $19,323.57, total $52,147.07. For year 1897-98 the salary list was $37,500, the incidental list $19,323.75, total $56,823.75. For year 1898-99, the salary list was $38,000, the incidental list $19,323.50, total $57,323.50. The salary list increases because of the growth of the school, while the incidental expenses are decreasing.

A letter was read by the secretary, Miss Eileen Smith, of the following teachers in the grammar school, who were in the school when they resigned their positions, in which she resigned her position. Miss Yeargin is now in Petaluma. The resignation was accepted.

Mr. Bang, one of the substitute teachers, was elected a regular teacher with the vacancy. The assignment of Bang to a school in the schools left to the City Superintendent, the matter of electing another substitute teacher was deferred.

Will Not Come West.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—Senator Lash, of Montana, who has just returned from an European trip was at White House today, and after a conference with the President, stated that Mr. McKinley would be compelled to give up his contemplated western tour. He would attend the ceremonies attending the laying of the corner stone of the Chicago postoffice on October 1st, it was altogether improbable that he would get further west than Chicago.

The Naval Reserves.
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4.—The United States steamer Badger arrived today from Portland, Or., via Eureka. The Badger picked up about 50 men of Eureka naval reserve. The local coast reserves will take the ship on a six or eight day cruise, commencing tomorrow. The government will allow the reserves to make whatever use of the vessel they may desire during the trip, so long as they comply with regulations of the navy. The Badger will probably steam to San Diego and return.
